Collective Vision Trust

English Curriculum Writing

Writing Overview

Collective Vision Trust Writing Curriculum is designed to complement the Collective Vision Trust Reading Curriculum so that children develop key skills in English. Children are guided to learn about the importance of writing and the purpose it will have in their life. Writing is purposeful and children have a clear focus of why they are writing.

It is also important that children enjoy writing and have an interest in what they are writing about. The curriculum gives children the skills and knowledge to write effectively, with confidence. The design of the writing curriculum develops not only accuracy but creativity and stamina. This is best done through the thorough understanding of the crucial knowledge that underpins writing.

Curriculum Intent

Collective Vision Trust has developed a writing curriculum that has a clear rationale for purposeful writing which develops writing skills. It is defined across four genres: writing to entertain, writing to inform, writing to persuade and writing to discuss. Integral to these genres are the skills and knowledge which children develop so they are able to write effectively. The skills and knowledge are defined by: how to write, what to write and how to make writing make sense. This clear organisation of sequenced skills and knowledge are delivered across the range a writing genres to ensure a breadth of skills and knowledge.

Sequencing

Our writing progression document clearly details the progression of writing across each year group from the first arrival at school until they leave in Year 6.

Recap

Planned, quality recap is an essential feature of the curriculum. Teachers will incorporate recap into their termly, weekly and daily plans. In addition, the following is worthy of note:

- On the spot accurate assessment is the key to good recap.
- Teachers will quickly move to longer recap of focus areas or concepts that are not fully embedded.
- Differentiation of learning must be applied to recap work some pupils will need more recap than others, which needs to happen without holding back the learning of the rest of the class.
- The first week in a half term is always a recap week. No new concepts are taught in recap weeks.
- Teachers will plan additional ongoing recaps as part of their weekly plans.

Letters and Spacing

Crucial Knowledge	Extended Knowledge
capital letters also called upper case, these are taller in size and used at the start of a sentence and for a proper noun	grapheme a way of writing a phoneme (sound) lower case letters usually smaller in size, used most often in writing finger spaces gaps left between words

Word

Crucial Knowledge	Extended Knowledge
word a group of letters that mean something	noun types there are five groups of nouns:
noun person, place or thing	 abstract (an idea, quality or feeling such as: truth, danger, happiness), collective (group of),
verb doing, having or being	 concrete (can be touched, seen, smelt, heard or tasted), pronoun (used instead of a proper noun to avoid repeating), adjective describes a noun	 proper (name of a particular person, place or brand). A noun is sometimes called a subject.
adverb details how, when or where, to give more information	expanded noun phrase is a phrase that adds more information about a noun by using one or more adjectives contraction two words put together and made shorter using an apostrophe ' where the removed letters were (they will = they'll)	a simile describes something by saying it is similar (nearly the same) to something else prefix a group of letters put before a word to change its meaning	auxiliary verbs are verbs that help a main verb to show when something has happened (I have eaten the cake), suffix a letter of a group of letters put after a word to change its meaning	imperative verbs are verbs which instruct or command (tell) someone to do something modal verbs are auxiliary verbs which show the chance of something happening or wanting it to happen passive verbs are verbs which are emphasised over the noun (or subject), when the subject of the sentence isn't doing anything adverbials does the same job as an adverb but uses more than one word to give information about how, when or where fronted adverb/adverbials adverbs and adverbials that are used at the start of a sentence

Synonym a word or phrase that means the same or similar to another word antonym a word or phrase that means the opposite to another word

Building a Sentence

Crucial	Know	ledge
ci uciai		icusc conjunction a word to connect phrases and sentences phrase a group of words that does not have a verb but tells information (the hungry dog) tense shows if writing is set in the past (already happened), present (happening now) or future (going to happen).

clause a group of words containing a noun and a verb (the hungry dog ran) preposition tells the position, time or way of something under, until, with sadness determiner a word to give context to a noun (the, a, this)

Extended Knowledge

co-ordinating conjunction words to join two clauses when the clauses make sense on their own and are equally important

For And Nor But Or Yet So

sub-ordinating conjunction words to joins two clauses when one clause is more important (often one clause doesn't make sense on its own)

I SAW A WABUB

If since as when although while after before until because independent clause a clause which makes sense on its own can form a complete sentence (sometimes called the main clause) dependent clause a clause which gives information but doesn't make sense on its own, it cannot be a sentence on its own sub-ordinating clause a clause which uses a sub-ordinating conjunction and joins an independent clause and is less important (often the sub-ordinating clauses doesn't make sense on its own) relative clause a clause which gives extra information doesn't make sense on its own and uses a relative pronoun (e.g. who, which, that)

Sentence Types

Crucial Knowledge	Extended Knowledge
sentence	compound sentence two or more simple sentences joined together
• starts with a capital letter and ends with a full stop, question or	(with a co-ordinating conjunction - FANBOYS) exclamation mark	The hungry dog ran and the cat sat quietly.
must have one or more clauses	complex contence a contence which contains an independent device must have a verb and a noun	complex sentence a sentence which contains an independent clause must make sense	and a dependent clause. (one is more important and the other clause adds extra information).
statement talls and a mathing	The hungry dog ran as it slobbered noisily.
statement tells you something	The hungry dog fun as it stobbered holsny .
command tells you to do something	title leads the whole text question asks you something	heading leads a section or chapter of a text exclamation exclaims (surprise) about something	subboding loads a smaller section of a taut · · ·	subheading leads a smaller section of a text simple sentence a sentence with one clause which makes sense (The hungry dog ran.)	first person when you write as yourself (using 'I') noragraph a costion of writing made up of one or more conteneor paragraph a section of writing made up of one or more sentences grouped together about one main subject	second person when you write to the reader directly (using 'you') third person when you write about other people

Punctuation

Crucial Knowledge	Extended Knowledge
full stop • a dot to show the end of a statement or command sentence	colon : used to introduce a list or to introduce linked ideas question mark ? placed at the end of a question sentence	semi-colon ; used to separate two independent clauses that are closely related.
exclamation mark I placed at the end of an exclamation sentence	ellipsis is used to show that a word has been missed out or a sentence is not finished; usually used to add tension or a silence comma, a short pause - goes on the bottom line	parenthesis word, phrase or clause inserted into a sentence to add apostrophe ' shows belonging or two words shortened (contraction)	extra information goes high above letters	brackets () used to show parenthesis in a sentence speech is talking	dash — a type of parenthesis (like brackets) it separates information dialogue is a conversation (speech) between two or more characters.	shows readers to pause for a little longer than a comma inverted commas "" " shows words being spoken. Sometimes called speech marks.	hyphen – used to join two or more words. A hyphen is smaller than a dash.
	direct speech is when the exact words spoken are written down inside inverted commas indirect (reported) speech the writer shares the main points of what is said without writing exactly the spoken words. Inverted commas are not used

Text

Crucial Knowledge	Extended Knowledge
fiction a piece of writing which describes people and events which are not true facts	audience the people who are reading or listening to something describe to say or write what something is like	recount piece of writing that retells and gives details of an event that has happened setting the place in a story	persuade tries to make the reader do something or agree with a point of character a person (or animal) in a story	view non-fiction a text that is not a story and gives true facts and information	genre is style of a type of story or writing. It is defined by its features such information facts about a person, place, event	as plot, character, setting etc instruction lists how to do something	plot a series of events that make up a story argue give a point of view that is different to someone else	narrative speaking or writing about something explanation (explain) describes how and why something is done	narrative speaking or writing about something playscript a piece of writing written for actors to read from	summary a short statement of the main points poetry a piece of writing that uses imagination and words to share ideas, feelings or a story		